

Rule 9: Use of special stationery in electronic service delivery

The appropriate Government may specify different types of special stationery, with accompanying security features for forms, applications, licenses, permits, certificates, receipts of payment and such other documents as part of Electronic Service Delivery.